Speaker Biography:

Vanessa Judelman is President of Mosaic People Development, consultant and a leadership expert. Through her HR background and business practice, Vanessa has developed a solid reputation for knowing what it takes to inspire great results in the new world of work. Her personal leadership experience allows her to intimately understand what leaders struggle with and the difficulties they encounter every day. She knows that leadership can be rewarding and understands that it can also be extremely stressful and challenging.

For this reason, Vanessa is dedicated to developing great leaders, building collaborative teams and giving leaders the tools they need to be happy and productive. For almost two decades, Vanessa has been developing her “secret sauce”. She knows that there is a science to developing leaders and has created a proven formula to develop results-oriented leaders who feel empowered and confident to do their job.

Whether keynote speaking, facilitating a group discussion or training, Vanessa Judelman’s programs have achieved strategic and successful change outcomes with organizations such as Motorola, Torstar Digital, Campbell’s Soup, the United Nations, Workopolis and Food Bank Canada. She is also a guest lecturer in the MBA program at Ted Rogers School of Management. Her fresh perspective on the world of work will challenge the misconceptions and myths often found in today’s workplaces.

It’s obvious that “old school” leadership is no longer working. A top down approach just doesn’t fly any more. People want their leaders to be authentic. People want their leaders to care about them. People want their leaders to help them to learn and grow. The bottom line is that people just want to be happy at work. Yes, it is that simple!

Vanessa Judelman will teach your audience how to become an effective leader, find the time to give feedback, coach their team and connect with them in a meaningful way. She will create a strategy to improve your team culture from unproductive to disengaged to productive and high-performing.

As a co-active, certified coach, Vanessa Judelman motivates teams and individuals to exceed their goals and her consulting experience and practice and regularly helps companies and organizations in Talent Management, Performance Management, Intergenerational Workforce, Succession Planning, and Learning and Development and Leadership. Judelman is noted as an expert in her industry and has been featured in the Globe and Mail and National Post.

Topic Presentations

The Game Changer: A New Kind of Leader for the New World of Work

The workplace is changing at an astonishing pace which requires a new kind of leader. Old business models are crumbling, and new ways of working are emerging. In this keynote, participants will learn the five key traits successful leaders are applying in the new world of work.

- What is this new world of work?
- How is it impacting leaders?
- How can you navigate this environment successfully

Beyond the Digital Divide

How is the next generation is transforming the world of work? In this this presentation, Vanessa Judelman explores these issues and debunks common myths about the generations at work. Participants will watch Vanessa's short film called Beyond the Digital Divide and then she will highlight and expand on the key points and tailor the message for your audience.

- Are digital natives (millennials) lazy and entitled?
- How are their perspectives impacting the world of work?
- What can be done to bridge the growing gap between digital natives and digital immigrants (those not born into the digital era) at work?

Books

Mastering Leadership: What it Takes to Lead in Today's Fast Paced World

If you are like most leaders out there, you are likely facing constant change, a heavy workload, high expectations to deliver results and the expectation to coach and develop your team. Mastering Leadership: What it Takes to Lead in Today's Fast Paced World will provide you with the strategies you need to become an extraordinary leader, even under these conditions.

This book is practical. You'll hear countless stories of every day leaders who have applied her approach to achieve excellent results. Plus you'll be able to assess your current leadership effectiveness as the book includes three assessments and an action plan.

Vanessa Judelman also shares the wisdom of twelve executives who speak frankly about the challenging, yet fulfilling journey of mastering leadership.

Testimonials

“Vanessa was amongst the highest ranked speakers for two keynotes she recently delivered for the Conference Board of Canada. She brought a combination of energy and insight to these presentations that kept people raving about her sessions for months after.”

- John Brewer, Principle, Idea Exchange

“Vanessa has been developing leaders at all levels in our organization. I’ve had so much positive feedback from the participants. A lot of them tell me they count the days to the next session because she brings such a refreshing perspective and energy, they feel like they can conquer the world!!”

Anna Petosa - VP People, Torstar Digital

“if you are looking for practical and pragmatic, high impact results in the world of work today, engage Vanessa Judelman. We’ve thoroughly enjoyed working with Vanessa, while formulating our organizational core values, and various performance management processes and metrics. Vanessa is a recognized expert in leadership and workplace development, and the results of her work have been exceptional. She will bring any leader or team to new levels, leaving them touched, moved and inspired!”

Dave Baran, VP National Sales, Workopolis

It is clear, Vanessa, that you are passionate about helping organizations maximize the potential of their employees. What impressed me the most is your commitment to research-based recommendations and solutions and integrating diverse points of view in your keynotes. You have to know your employees before you can motivate them. You really get this.

David Coletto, Chief Insight Officer, Abacus Data

At our 23rd annual TLOMA Educational Conference this year I had the great pleasure of introducing Vanessa Judelman as one of our guest speakers. Her seminar, entitled “What is the New World of Work?”, gave the delegates who attended plenty of food for thought about how our work environment has continued to change and evolve over the years, and why, and what motivates us to perform well and inspire others around us to perform well also. Based on the quality of her presentation and its content, I would highly recommend Vanessa as a motivational speaker and life coach.
